Mutual exchange, assignment and succession

What we do

- Give you permission to swap your home and tenancy with another suitable social housing tenant, anywhere in the country, if you request it and meet certain conditions, including demonstrating a need for retirement housing or extra care housing and meet the allocations and letting policy criteria.
- Provide access to a home exchange service to help you find another property. This may be through our own local service or an external national service.
- If the necessary conditions don't apply and we refuse your exchange, we will let you know within 20 working days.
- If exchanging into a flat you must be able to be alerted by the smoke/fire alarm and vacate the premises safely unaided.
- Allow you to transfer your tenancy to someone else living in the property in certain circumstances. This is called assignment.
- Should a tenant die, allow a qualifying resident to take over the tenancy. This is called succession. We will do this only once and rules will apply, dependent on the type of tenancy.

Succession applies to the tenancy, not the property itself. If you will be under-occupying the property, it has adaptations that you do not need or is designated for older people and you are not an older person, you may have to move to another Group property more suitable to your needs.

What we expect from you

- Ask our permission to mutually exchange before you do so.
- Tell us if you wish to assign your tenancy.
- Make sure your rent account is clear.
- Make sure the property and location is suitable for your needs and is in good condition.
- Leave your property clean and tidy.
- Take responsibility for the property you are moving to. You accept the property in the condition that you find it in.
- Tell us if a tenant dies.
- You may be asked to provide up to four weeks' rent in advance.

Service standards

- If you apply to do a mutual exchange we will inform you of our consent, or not, within 20 working days.

For more information, please call our general enquiries line 01952 217100 or visit our website: wrekin.com/Section/Handbook-Housing-Management.

Advice for family, friends and carers

Representatives

You can act on behalf of the tenant with the written consent of the tenant at any time, but particularly in these circumstances:

- The tenant no longer has the capacity to deal with their own affairs and you have been:
 1. Granted Power of Attorney
 2. Appointed as their Appointee
 3. Appointed as their Deputy.
- You are the tenants' appointed Advocate (we will need a copy for our records).

As their Representative, we would ask you to keep us informed of any change in circumstances, especially any changes to their income, so that we can ensure they are receiving the right support and any help they need in relation to maintaining their tenancy.

General

- If the tenant dies or is not living in the home for any period of time, we expect you to make arrangements to care for any pets left at home by the tenant.
- In most of our retirement living and extra care schemes, guest suites are available for family members or friend to stay with the tenant for short periods of time. These must be booked in advance and are chargeable.

End of tenancy

If the tenant has passed away, or can't deal with their own affairs and you are acting as their representative:

- You can give us 2 weeks' notice if you would like to end the tenancy earlier than the required 28 days' notice.
- You can give us a longer period of notice if you wish, but you must pay the rental charge until the end of the notice period.
- If it is a joint tenancy, the surviving tenant may be able to succeed the tenancy.
- You must inform us if the tenant is moving into residential or nursing care, when they initially move in, even on a temporary basis, and when the move is made permanent.
- Please advise us if the tenant is admitted to hospital so that we can be involved in a plan for their discharge.
- Please advise us if you notice any deterioration in the tenant's health, mental health or wellbeing, so that we can provide them with the right support at the right time.

What we do about complaints

- Informal complaint: We will attempt to resolve all complaints or expressions of dissatisfaction, to the customer's satisfaction at the first point of contact.
- Stage 1 formal complaint: If we cannot resolve a complaint immediately or the customer is unhappy with the resolution initially offered or indicates that they wish to make a formal complaint then it will be logged on the complaints system. The relevant Service Manager will contact the customer within 24 hours and aim to resolve the complaint to the customer's satisfaction within five working days or if they can't let the customer know why and agree a new timescale.
- Stage 2 Senior Manager review: If the customer remains unhappy following stage 1 of the complaints process they can request a review of the complaint. A Senior Manager, who was not involved at stage 1, will review the complaint and try to find an acceptable resolution for the customer. We aim to complete the review within 10 working days where possible.
- Stage 3 the complaints panel: Should the complaint still not be reasonably resolved, customers can appeal to a review panel where an Executive Director, Customer Voice Panel member and a Head of Service will review the complaint and resolutions offered. A date for the panel review will be agreed with the customer who may attend in person. The panel will aim to hold the review meeting within 10 working days or at the date agreed with the customer and make a final decision within five working days of the review hearing. The complaints process will then end.
- Housing Ombudsman: If a customer remains unhappy following stage 3 they can appeal to the Ombudsman, but must do this within 6 months of the Groups complaint process ending. The Housing Ombudsman will not normally accept complaints that have not been through our complaints process. The Housing Ombudsman operates a 'Democratic Process' for referrals to them, the Wrekin Tenants' Panel is a Designated Tenants' Panel under the scheme, alternatively complainants can apply to the Housing Ombudsman eight weeks after their complaint has been closed. More details can be found on the Housing Ombudsman's website www.housing-ombudsman.org.uk.

What we do about compliments

- We will pass compliments on to the individual involved with a copy to their manager. Compliments will also appear in our internal staff communications to give employees the recognition they deserve.

Frequently asked questions

Why must you service my boiler and gas appliances?

As a landlord, it is our responsibility to ensure gas appliances in the homes we rent are safe. By law, we must check all Wrekin Housing Group gas appliances every year.

What does a gas service check involve?

Our registered Gas Safe Engineers will need access to your home to clean and test all Group owned gas appliances. This usually takes between one to two hours, depending on the amount of gas appliances you have.

How do I know it is a Wrekin Housing Group Gas Safe Engineer?

We will book an appointment time with you to carry out your gas service check, so you should be expecting us. All our engineers carry identification and, if you are at all unsure, they won't mind waiting while you call us.

What happens if I refuse a gas service check?

Allowing us access to conduct gas service checks is part of your tenancy agreement, so you must let our engineers into your home. If you don't, we may have to take legal action. Please remember, this is for your safety. Why put yourself and others at risk?

How do I book a gas service check?

We will normally contact you to arrange an appointment, but please get in touch if:

- You haven't had a gas service check within the last 12 months.
- You have had a gas meter installed (even if you have no gas appliances).
- You are worried about the safety of gas equipment.
- You are unsure if you need a gas service check.

Who do I speak to about how to use my central heating system?

Contact us on 01952 217217 and we will arrange for a gas engineer to visit you.

How do I get my gas and electricity supply connected?

If we have not told you who your supplier is you will need to ring 0870 608 1524 for Gas and 0845 603 0618 for Electric. You may need to show both the gas and electricity supplier proof that you are the new tenant, your tenancy agreement will be enough to prove this.

Do I need home contents insurance?

It's a good idea to get home contents insurance. The Wrekin Housing Group insures the structure of your home but the cover doesn't include what's inside it, such as your furniture and personal belongings. If something were to happen, replacing the contents of your home could be expensive. Having home contents insurance means your personal belongings are insured against events like fire, theft and flooding.

The Wrekin Housing Group work with the UK's largest insurer to offer home contents insurance that can be paid in weekly/fortnightly/monthly instalments. Unlike some policies, there are no excesses to pay in the event of a claim. You can apply on our website wrekin.com/pages/home-contents-insurance or request a paper application by calling 01952 217100.

Can I fit laminated flooring in my property?

- No. We ask that laminated flooring is not fitted in flats and apartments.

Frequently asked questions

Can I keep a pet in my home?

- If you live in a flat you must get our written permission to keep a pet.
- We will not unreasonably stop you from owning a small pet but will only give permission for a cat or a dog in a flat on certain conditions. It is our policy not to give permission to tenants in flats to keep a cat or a dog but requests that sit outside of this policy will be assessed on an individual case by case basis.
- We will not grant permission if:
 1. We are aware of any previous pet being removed due to ill health or cruelty.
 2. The pet is to be kept for breeding purposes.
 3. The pet is not a normal domestic pet, e.g a farm animal.
 4. The pet is listed in the Dangerous Dogs act 1991 or requires a license.
 5. The individual scheme has a no pets policy.

How can I stop condensation and mould?

Condensation occurs when the warm air in a room comes into contact with a cold surface, such as a window, mirror or wall, and turns into water droplets, which can then turn into mould. This does not mean your home is damp. We add moisture to the air all the time just by breathing, as well as from cooking, from drying clothes, and from our pets and house plants.

- Wipe water droplets from windows, sills and tiles on a regular basis.
- Don't dry laundry on radiators.
- Dry clothes outside or on a clothes airer in a cool well ventilated room.
- Make sure tumble dryers are vented correctly and even with a condensation dryer make sure the room is well ventilated.
- Keep lids on pans when cooking and ventilate the room while cooking.
- Whilst cooking or bathing, close doors to other rooms.
- If you have an extractor in the kitchen or bathroom, use it.
- If you have window vents keep them open.
- Do not block or seal off any window vents.
- If it's not damp outside open the windows.
- When running a bath, start with cold water first.
- After a bath or shower ventilate the room to the outside not to the rest of the home.
- Hang wet coats outside of your main living area.
- Use a dehumidifier.
- Don't place furniture against an outside wall.
- We advise tenants not to use steam strippers when decorating as they can damage plaster. We may charge you for any damage as a result.

If after following these guidelines you are still getting a build-up of condensation in your home, contact us and we may be able to help you to find an answer to the problem.

What is the Customer Portal?

The Customer Portal is your personal area of our website, where you can see your information, pay your rent online and self-serve a growing number of services. We will be continually developing the interactivity of this area. If you need help to log in call our contact centre on 01952 217100 or email enquiries@wrekin.com.
